Policy

It is the policy of the Board of Arcadia College that all directors avoid any conflict of interest or the appearance of conflict of interest.

Definitions

A conflict of interest may be defined as "any situation where a Board Member may be in (or may potentially be in) a position of being involved in a decision or action where they may not be perceived to be able to put the interests of the school first and foremost".

In deciding if there is a conflict of interest, a director should consider the capacity for the interest to affect their decision-making; the importance of the interest to the director (not the school); and how others may view these questions, as the test of materiality is not what the director believes but what a reasonable person would believe.

Legislation

Corporations Act 2001 – Directors are required by the Corporations Law to give notice of material personal interests in matters that relate to the affairs of their Company.

Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Regulation 2013 s45.25 Governance Standard 5 - (2) – A registered entity must take reasonable steps to ensure that its responsible entities are subject to, and comply with, the following duties:

- to disclose perceived or actual material conflicts of interest of the responsible entity.

[Note: A perceived or actual material conflict of interest that must be disclosed includes a related party transaction.]

Education (Accreditation of Non-State Schools) Act 2017 s26 (2b) – allows that in assessing the suitability of a governing body, the Accreditation Board may have regard to:

- whether the governing body has appropriate guiding principles and procedures for identifying, declaring and dealing with any conflict of interest a director of the governing body may have relating to an aspect of the operation of the school.

Implementation

The Board has determined that Arcadia College will:

1. contract for goods and services in a manner that will avoid any conflict of interest or perceived conflict of interest
2. avoid conflict of interest in relation to employment of staff. The school may not employ any staff member related by blood or marriage, to a director except by a unanimous vote of the full board
3. require full disclosure from directors in situations where they, their relatives, partners or friends, may benefit financially, or in any other material way, from a decision made by the Board.

In particular, directors of Arcadia College may not:

- apply the school's property either for their personal benefit or for the benefit of any other person without the authority of the full Board
- benefit financially, or in any other material way from the outcome of a decision made by the Board
- cause any relative, partner or friend, or any organisation in which they have equity or of which they are an employee or a board member, to benefit from their position on the Board
- make unauthorised use of confidential information belonging to the School
- intentionally gain an advantage (directly or indirectly) for any person or causes detrimental to the school.

Conflicts Prior to Taking Office

A director with personal financial interest in a sale, lease, or contract with the school, which was entered before the director took office, and presents an actual or potential conflict of interest, shall immediately notify the Board Chair of such interest. It shall thereafter be the responsibility of the director to refrain from participating in any discussion or action relating to the sale, lease, or contract by the board.

Conflicts While in Office

If at any time a director believes that he or she may appear to be unable to maintain professional objectivity on any issue, because of a personal situation, employment, or other reasons, the member must notify the Board Chair and must not vote on the matter or be present when the matter is being considered by the Board.

Determination as to Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists

The determination as to whether a conflict of interest exists is to be made by the Board Chair. Any director who has an actual, perceived or potential conflict of interest shall notify the Board Chair of such conflict immediately. The Board Chair shall then determine the appropriate course of action.
